Fishing in Henry County

Henry County is home to some of the best fishing spots in Illinois. The Rock River, Illinois River, Green River, and numerous smaller streams and ponds are teeming with a variety of fish species, including:

- Largemouth and smallmouth bass
- Channel catfish
- Bluegill

li>Crappie

- Northern pike
- Muskellunge

Whether you prefer to cast a line from a boat or wade in the shallows, there are countless opportunities to catch fish in Henry County. The best time to fish is during the spring and fall when the fish are most active. However, fishing can be enjoyable year-round, with ice fishing available on the Rock River during the winter months.

Floating in Henry County

In addition to fishing, Henry County also offers some of the best floating opportunities in Illinois. The Rock River, Green River, and numerous smaller streams provide miles of scenic waterways to explore. Whether you're looking for a leisurely float trip or a more challenging whitewater adventure, you'll find it in Henry County.

There are several different ways to float in Henry County. You can bring your own canoe, kayak, or raft, or you can rent one from a local outfitter. Float trips can be tailored to your specific interests and abilities, from relaxing floats suitable for beginners to more challenging whitewater runs for experienced paddlers.

Where to Stay and What to Do

Henry County offers a variety of lodging options to suit every budget, from cozy bed and breakfasts to modern hotels. There are also several campgrounds located throughout the county, where you can camp under the stars and enjoy the great outdoors.

When you're not fishing or floating, there are plenty of other activities to enjoy in Henry County. Visit the charming town of Geneseo, go for a hike in the Hennepin Canal State Trail, or explore the exhibits at the Henry County Historical Society Museum.
